Describe Setting

_____ Acres

This property is located in rural Jefferson County, northeast of the unincorporated village of Kabletown.

_____ Archaeological Artifacts Present

Description of Buildings or Site (Original and Present)

_____ 2 _____ Stories _____ 9 _____ Front Bays

This began as a side-passage dwelling to which have been added a variety of additions, generally dating from within the period of significance of the property. The original 3-bay facade incorporates an offset entrance distinguished by transom sash and sidelights and shielded by a Classical Revival-style wood portico. Fenestration is flat-topped, with multi-light sash, including some 12/12 units, and operable exterior wood shutters. An original detached kitchen has been connected to the main house by a series of side additions, laterally-oriented as well, with gable roofs and dormers.

Statement of Significance

This property was erected by Henry Gantt prior to 1813 when Gantt sold it to James Watson McCurdy. The property has remained in the hands of McCurdy's descendants, including the present owner, former Sen. Charles McCurdy Mathias, McCurdy's great-great-grandson. It is clearly eligible for the National Register under Criterion A for exploration/settlement and C for architecture.
